I am a HUGE fan of yours. I have a bunch of memorabilia like two jerseys, a signed picture of you which I got two years ago at the twinsfest and I am going to the twinsfest this year too and hopefully I will see you!! I just want to tell you you are a huge role model of mine. I played softball for 4 years and my favorite position was the catcher. I go to all the bobblehead games and I slept over in the freezing cold two years ago and got your bobblehead. Your Biggest fan ever!! Nicole ok so I'm driving through cambridge yesterday with a few friends when we suddenly decide to stop by the Walmart. As I'm walking in I see JOE coming out. I did a double take just to make sure cuz there are guys who look like joe out there, and it was joe!!! i practically had a heart attack as im running back to the car to get my friends, and my camera but joe was already in his car

:(i was shaking soo bad as i saw him drive off.
That's my " I (sorta) met joe" story!

hey joe! I hope you'll get to read all the many comments I wrote to you (even though some applied to that moment.. hehe) now that you'll have SOME time...or do you? lol. You had a VERY good season. You have so many fans, and I am happy I got to see your very first game. Well I told my dad all I want for Christmas is to speak or hear from you...but like that would happen! Well anyway, HE couldn't grant that wish. I am going to try to fly to florida and see spring training with my dad and uncle and hopefully, if I go and skip school, I'd get a really good seat so I can watch you! That's ALMOST as good...lol. Well hopefully you'll reply to me at some point even though I know your a very busy guy!
CONGRATULATIONS ON WINNING THE BATTING TITLE!!

Thanks, Joe for such a terrific season! Congratulations on the AL title of 347. I am the MOM of a 25-year-old Joe Mauer look alike. The both of you side by side could be TWINS. (No pun intended) We have had so many people tell my son, Ryan, that he is a Joe Mauer look alike. He just smiles and says, "thanks." He has also been a leftie catcher and has the same sideburns, facial features, hair, etc. Twins games have been a big part of our life but now it has been even more exciting. It seems like my own son is out there catching. We love you and hope you will be with the Twins for a long, long time. Thanks for all your contributions to Twins Territory!!!!

Hey Joe...It's me again. lol. I think you're doing such a good job and maybe if you ever play the brewers one year I will go and see you there. I always wanted to be an opposing team fan at a game instead of one of the crowd.lol. Even though Minneapolis is closer...I am keeping my fingers crossed for the batting title for you! lol. And the Cy Young Award for Santana. And MVP for Morneau maybe. lol! Hopefully the World Series too!! lol.

That's a lot!! I think I would Die if you called me like u did for that Whitney person...either that or I would think you were an imposter. LUCKY!! I was wondering if there were any type of contests, autograph signings, anything upcoming that I might be able to see you at or win something from.

I met Joe Mauer his first year of rookie-league ball in Elizabethton, TN. Elizabethton came to play the Bluefield Orioles (my nearest team) and it was there that I witnessed Joe's first professional career home run. After the game I went down to the dugout and he gladly signed my program. It says "To Mandy, Best Wishes! Joe Mauer #7". I think it may have been his first autograph. I'm so proud of him--to me he's a prodigy in the game of baseball.

I was wondering if Joe does any meet and greets with Fan club members from out of town, like when the Twins are in cleveland? It's no fun being this far away from the cites. I miss all the fun player a;pperances and chances to meet the best team in baseball!!

Response: Mike,

Have you ever tried catching the Twins as they leave or arrive at the Mariott at Key Center or Jacobs Field? Often times the visiting teams will stop and sign stuff when on the road because there's not usually a mob of people like their might be in Minneapolis. Give it a try and don't forget to flash Joe your JMFC member #238 badge if you see him! He'd get a kick out of knowing he has fans in Ohio too. -Marty

I think I would ask him to hang on to my phone number (if he is ever single again)! ;) hehehe... In all reality, I think I would want to ask him how much pressure he feels going into games. I mean, he is one of the best, but I would think that having that title (as well as the highest batting average) would make someone a little paranoid about living up to it throughout the season. He seems to do it well, though! Also, I saw an interview with him and roomie Justin Morneau, and they admitted to watching Animal Planet (CUTE! I do too!) So I think it would be fun to know what other things they do in their free time (what little I'm sure they have). University of Minnesota represent...we love ya Joe!!! :) Go Twins!!

09/13/06 Taylor Hurley, WI writes:

Common Joe! Get some hits and runs. You don't want Jeter to pass you up do you? lol. See you at the last game of the season. (hopefully you'll be playing and hopefully Santana will pitch!) I bet that hurt when that Oakland pitcher hit you in the back. You looked pretty mad!lol. You never argue with anybody about calls (most of the twins don't either, except Gardenhire which I don't understand. Like the umps are actually gonna change their calls.lol.) and I like that! OMG!! I am watching the Oakland game and just now Cuddy got a ground rule double and morneau just brought in 2 more RBIs! AWESOME!! Go Cuddy and Morneau! I thought you guys were done for! lol. Just Kidding. Weren't you guys like 10 games out end of August?!? WOW!

I went to twinsfest and stood in line for 2 hours to get his autograph.. well when i finally got to the front i was to nervous to say anything and my hands were shaking so bad that i could hardly hold on to the plaque that i wanted him to sign.. It was probably the best most embaressing moment of my life.. And if i could ask Joe one question it would be Will you marry me!! just kidding it would probably how nervous were you when you played your first major league baseball game?? If you could please answer this question and let me know.. that would be GREAT!! LOVE TRISTA!!

Mr. Mauer, Congrats on your success this year. I am an aquiantance of the parents and family of four year old Peter Eigner. He is currently fighting a tuff battle with cancer at University of Minnesota Medical Center, (Fairview, in Minneapolis. 500 Harvard St. Minneapolis, MN 55455)Outside of your family he may be your biggest fan! It is amazing that this boy can be fighting the biggest battle of his life and still be your biggest fan! It would be a great boost to Peter and his family if you could stop by and visit or call him. Thank you and best of luck to you and the Twins.

Hey, it's me again. I hope it's OK if i put more than one message :) (even though they are long) There are lots of questions I have, but I won't ask them ALL because it would take days. I forgot, I wanted to know what you would do instead of baseball if it didn't work out or something. It's sorta stupid but I am curious. Do you have any nicknames either that people don't really know about? You people are so lucky to meet him even at dicks sporting goods or Malls :(!! One time a Wisconsin Brewer came like 2 hours away from me but I didn't go cause the Brewers just suck. >:(Well I hope someday soon, when you get the time, you know like maybe in the off season, you'll reply to me. I'll be at one of the last games of the season with the white sox. So... I hope to hear from you sometime,Like I said though, I'll understand if you don't have time for a 12 year old from a small town in Wisconsin. I know you have better things to do ;) - Taylor

08/25/06 Taylor Hurley, WI writes:

Well I am 12 years old and live in the smallest crappiest town on earth so I know for a fact that I would NEVER EVER EVER get to meet Joe Mauer(or any of the minnesota twins). It's my dream to ...well...SOMEDAY meet him. I am a softball player. A pitcher actually.I am pretty much obsessed with the minnesota twins. I went to 2 games this year and hope to go to one more! I know he probably won't see this though :(

But I think the sideburns comercial was fun, but i think you should stop trying to be serious about the Land o Lakes milk. You sound like a robot, lol! Your not really cut out for those kinds of things. Love Justin morneau too!! I also really wish your brother, Jake, could have made it farther than he has.The BIG question i've always wondered is if you people(baseball players) actually care if you win or lose? You'd still get paid so it might not matter, if it's a good game. I think sometimes fans are more into it than you guys. Hmm... I hope you stay on the twins forever since you were from here...and that's my favorite team. If you don't, well, I'll have to boo you like they do to AJ Pierzynski. LOL!! Just kidding. C YA in the playoffs!! Hopefully world series!- Taylor

Hey, I was wondering where i can buy the SI with Joe on it..it was already off the shelves by the time i went to get it..Thanks

Reply: Erik, at this point you better look on e-bay or do a web search for a seller because your chances of finding one are slim. I called Sports Illustrated at 1-888-806-4833 and spoke to Tim in the "single copy dept" who said they are completely sold out of the issue and no more copies will be reprinted. Good luck. Marty

This would be a ? for Joe. After i became obsessed with you i decided to grow out my side burns. How Do you get the so darn stright?

Reply: Chris, I'd suggest letting them grow for a few days then get someone else trim them the first time. Once the edge has been set it's easy after that to keep them level by yourself on a daily basis. Maybe the next time you get a haircut they can do that for you. If all else fails I found this website on the internet for professional looking sideburns in just five minutes: <http://perfectsideburns.com/sixsideburns.html> -Marty

How can I get a picture of Joe for my birthday cake? Let me know if you can. Thanks

Response:

Hi Austin- The Twins Pro shops are now selling them for about 6.00 a pair. I make them myself for the kids in the fanclub and they look better if you ask me than those you can buy. The ones I make are cut from dark brown felt that has the feel off sticky junk on it. If your mom says it's ok, I'll be happy to send you a pair if you sign up for the fan club. I'll even pick up the postage for mailing the certificate to you for a birthday present. Maybe you can find a photo of Joe on our website: http://www.joemauerfanclub.com/wst_page7.php -Marty Hey,Joe. How can I get sideburns and a signed picture. I am a big fan, and I am 9 years old. your fan Joseph.

Response:

Hi Joseph,

The best way to get sideburns is to be one of the first 10,000 people at Thursday nights game 8/10. The MOA is sponsoring the first Joe Mauer Sideburn giveaway!

The best way to get a signed picture would be to attend the Joe Mauer & Michael Cuddyer signing this Sunday 8/13 at Dick's Sporting Goods in the Burnsville Center at 6:00 p.m. There is a $20.00 donation for the Gloves for Kids program which gets you an autograph from both Joe and Michael and the money goes to a GREAT cause, too. While you are there you can sign up for the Joe Mauer fan club which is free.

Joe, Hawks baseball team 15AA has a year end baseball party Friday, August 4th...where can I get 12 sideburns for the kids???? Great commercial Go Twins....! We want to see the Twins in the World Series.

Response: Jody, Yes, it is a great commercial and I think it's responsible for a lot of sideburned kids out there! The Mauer sideburn giveaway is August 10th at the dome but until then you can try one of these:

1.) Dark brown velcro strips with adhesive backing. You won't need the Hook side but this stuff is cheap and looks pretty darned good.

2.) Dark brown (adhesive backed) felt. Looks great if you can find the right tool to cut it. I had a tough time with mine and the white backing that protects the adhesive kept coming off and I couldn't get it cut straight enough with just a scissors.

3.) Acrylic paint, but then you have to give it time to dry. I think they make an actual "face paint" or someone at the craft store can point you in the right direction.

I hope the Hawks had a great season and have a great time at the year end baseball party!

I wanted to thank you for taking the time to graciously sign the red All Star Shirt at the Minneapolis airport for me this morning. I know you were tired from the game and the pressure of travel. Yet you were kind and gracious--your professional success makes you a good man, but your professional success and humble attitude make you a great man--keep that up!

I was at the Home Run Derby and All Star Games as part of a business meeting, and at the last second had the chance to get another ticket for my 15 year old son. We could not get him air travel for the game--so he did not make it. When I presented him the shirt just a few moments ago, he was really pumped to think that you signed it for him.

Best of luck for a continued great season!

Thanks again!

Anna was lucky enough to be selected by Perkins Restaurants to serve as the Honorary Catcher at the Twins - Chicago White Sox Game on Mothers Day, 14 May. The starting catcher for the Twins was Mike Redmond, who had a special surprise for Anna. The ball he presented to Anna was actually signed by Joe Mauer, not him. Joe knows Anna through his mother Theresa and when he learned she had been selected as catcher, he saw to it that she got an autographed ball from him, with a special message.

Do you know who this is with Anna? It's Joeeeeeeeee Mauer the Minnesota Twins Catcher who she reallllllllly likes. Haaaaaaa, she refers to him as being Dreamyyyy (wink). The following pic was taken this evening at a benefit helping to raise funds for youth sports. Course Anna was so excited to get another autograph from Joe and have her picture taken with him. Immediately after having the picture taken, she pronounced to all, "I love you Joeeee ... at least twice ... getting a big smile from him and all the folks in attendance. Ron Hey joe! I watched the game on your birthday! It was completely awesome! Congrats! I am going to 2 games in June against the cubs! I cant wait to see you play again!!! You are my favorite player and i think you are one of the best player in the major leagues!

04/19/06 Alex, Virginia, MN writes:

I really admire Joe Mauer. I have never met him, but I would love to!!! I am a catcher as well, except in fastpitch softball, so I definitely have a lot of respect for him as a catcher--- the hardest position on the field!!! haha, and we have the quads to show for it... :) Joe is so amazing- his positive attitude and drive keep me motivated. He's also quite breathtaking- need I say more about that?!?? I can honestly say that Joe is my idol, and I wish I lived closer to MPLS so I could go to more games! I never miss them on TV, though! Happy 23rd birthday, Joe, and I really hope the Twins win their game for you! Good luck with the rest of your season, and keep up the fantastic job!

I just recently went to macys' at mall of america where joe mauer was signing autographs. This was my first time meeting him and I was so excited, and he was everything I expected him to be, he was friendly, polite and very fun to talk to. He is an excellent baseball player and I hope he stays with minnesota for quite some time.

Keep doing what your doing Joe.

Hi! I'm a new twins fan and I'm so impressed with Joe Mauer. My husband (a long time Twins fan) took me to my first spring training this year. It was so fun to get up close to the players. We got Torii Hunter, and Joe's autograph, and I got my picture taken with Joe. He was so nice about it. I've got his jersey and I wear it whenever they're playing. We don't get to watch too many games on tv here in California, only when they play the A's. But that's ok, we "watch" the games on the internet. Go Twins!!!!!!!

Great game against Oakland the fans loved every minute of game! Anyways, since being one of the younger pro athletes in the MBL and have young kids look up to you everywhere, what would be one thing you would tell them? P.S. my 5 yr. old nephew loves you and was so excited he got to see you play.

04/05/06 Victoria, Buffalo MN writes:

Joe Mauer is definately one of my favorite baseball players, he is so young and talented he played a great game yesterday and good luck to him in the future.

04/02/06 Angela, Stewartville MN writes:

Hi Joe, You are a stand-out catcher. I enjoy watching you play every chance I get. I go to school in Wisc. (I'm in my last year) so I have never had the chance to go to the Winter Caravan or go to the player appearances to meet you. Is there any way I could meet you? I would love to spend just a few minutes with you. I'm turning 22 at the end of the month, and that'd be a superb birthday present. If I can't meet you, I'll cheer you on from the stands at the game! Go Twins!

I am glad to announce that the Joe Mauer Fan Club got started on my 19th birthday and now I will have something great to share my birthday with now that I am in his fan club. Thank you all for putting it together and thank you Joe for everything you have done for all of us.

I personally think that Joe Mauer is one of the best things to happen to the Twins besides Kirby Puckett. Joe is my all-time hero I met him once in Mankato but that was no longer than 3 minutes I got to say hi and that was about it. I would like an autographed picture of him if possible. And to one day actually get to meet him and sit down and talk baseball about him. He is the person I look up to the most just because of his age and he has done a lot. He would have to be the best thing to happen to baseball since baseball itself was born. So if I could get an autographed picture that would be really appreciated. THANK YOU JOE AND KEEP UP WITH WHAT YOU DO, YOU ARE THE BEST.

02/08/06 Ron, Eagan MN writes:

Back on 1 Oct, you met my daughter Anna, age 8, at the Metrodome. It was then that she first learned of the Joe Mauer Fan Club, and she excitedly signed up. She is member # 93 and is a huge Joe Mauer Fan. Here is a picture of Joe standing next to Anna last year (before a Milwaukee Brewer Game). Anna was fortunate enough to be selected by, "Great Clips", to serve as the honorary catcher. Anna was soooooo excited to meet Joe ... it was the time of her life. He gave her an autographed ball and of course she got to stay at home plate with him and the umpires as the national anthem was being played.

02/02/06 Lexi, Detroit Lakes MN writes:

Hey, last season I got to spend the last series with the Indians in the home plate suite (which is about 12 feet from the catcher!) at Jacobs Field. Unfortunately, Joe had injured his shoulder on Friday so I only got to see him in the dugout. But we had fun with all the guys! Anyway, after Sunday night's game the ump had given me a game ball. I wasn't able to make it to Twinsfest, cause work sent me to Cleveland, but my boyfriend went. He had Joe sign my ball and he wrote, "To Lexi I'll always be your number 7 Joe Mauer." How great is that?!!!

01/31/06 Gina, Rochester MN writes:

I've been a Twins fan for many years now but what makes watching them play even more special is the success of our own Minnesota grown Joe Mauer. I recently had the opportunity to meet him in Rochester during the Winter Caravan. He was very approachable and friendly, but I thought, hmmm....how long is this going to last? Then this past Saturday I stood in line for 2 hours on my birthday, with my family to get his autograph at Twins Fest. Let me say that he is the real deal! I've never met a "Star" that exudes so much warmth and friendliness. When he heard it was our birthday, he smiled and wished my daughter a 'Happy Birthday'. (Yes, Beth and I have the same birthday!) He is a wonderful example of Minnesota Nice! Kudos to his parents for raising such a polite and kind young man. I am proud to be a new member of the Joe Mauer fan club! You go Joe!!!!

01/31/06 Jackie, Glenwood MN writes:

Hey, I was wondering if you had a girl friend yet?? and also what kind of music do you listen to?? You should try listening to All American Rejects, if you don't already. they are GREAT!

Twins Fest 2006 was another success! I was fortunate enough to be able to get Joe's autograph again! He was also in Rochester for the Twins Winter Caravan, and I got one there too. It was so much fun to get to actually see him up close. He really has to be one of the coolest, most down to earth "stars" you will ever meet. Unlike a lot of other famous athletes, Joe is not cocky and always tries to make time for everyone! You can really tell at an event like this, the people who appreciate their fans, and Joe is definately one of them! You're awesome Joe! Thanks!
